

AIR LXII. To old Sir Simon the King.

John Gay

John Christopher Pepusch

But val - our the strong - er grows, The strong - er li - quor we're drink-ing. and how can we feel our woes, When we've lost the trou - ble of think ing?

3

The musical score is written for a single melodic line on a treble clef staff in 2/4 time. The first system contains two measures of music with lyrics underneath. The second system begins with a measure rest (indicated by a '3' above the staff), followed by two measures of music with lyrics underneath. The piece concludes with a double bar line.